PERKINS EASTMAN CONGRATULATES ALAN M. SCHLOSSBERG ON INDUCTION AS PRESIDENT OF AIA PITTSBURGH

With Schlossberg's Leadership, AIA Pittsburgh to Remain at Leading Edge

New York, NY (December 19, 2014) The Board of Directors of top international architecture and design firm Perkins Eastman congratulates Principal and Executive Director Alan M. Schlossberg AIA, LEED AP on his induction as president of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) for 2015. Schlossberg served as Vice President in 2014 alongside outgoing president Jen Bee AIA.

"I am honored to have been chosen to represent the Pittsburgh Chapter of the AIA as its 2015 president. It is difficult to imagine a better resource than the collective capabilities of those who live and breathe our profession and understand our region so well," says Schlossberg." He continues, "The AIA, both nationally and in Pittsburgh, plays an invaluable role in supporting our profession. I look forward to continuing the Pittsburgh chapter's role at the leading edge of member service, outreach, and programming."

Schlossberg joined Perkins Eastman in 1994, and he was a part of the leadership team that established the firm's Pittsburgh office. As its Managing Principal, Alan has been instrumental in positioning the Pittsburgh office as a regional influence, with particular expertise in higher education, senior living, healthcare, housing, government, and commercial/mixed-use.

J. David Hogle FAIA, LEED AP, Principal and an Executive Director of Perkins Eastman and a past president of AIA Pittsburgh, says of Schlossberg's honor, "Everyone at Perkins Eastman congratulates Alan as he is inducted to serve as the 2015 President of AIA Pittsburgh." Hogle continues, "Alan has the skills, insights, and commitment to serve the chapter, AIA, and profession well. He believes passionately in our profession, the role of design in the community, and the positive impact architects have on people's lives."

In addition to his role as a member of the firm's Executive Committee, Schlossberg also is one of the firm's Higher Education Practice Area Leaders, with more than 28 years of experience in educational planning and design for colleges and universities, early childhood development, and research facilities. His local work of note includes multiple projects for the University of Pittsburgh, including The Upper Campus Housing, Bouquet
