SABRET FLOCOS JOINS PERKINS EASTMAN AS PRINCIPAL

Expertise in Workplace Strategy, Change Management to Build On Established Workplace Practice

New York, NY (June 12, 2015) Top international architecture and interior design firm Perkins Eastman is pleased to announce that Sabret Flocos Assoc. AIA, IIDA, LEED AP has joined as a Principal. She brings more than 30 years of architecture and design experience in strategic planning, programming, space planning, and change management for workplace and other high-performance interiors. Her clients include Fortune 500 companies, top developers, and various government agencies. Flocos was most recently a Principal at FOX Architects, a firm she co-founded.

Flocos will join Perkins Eastman's established national workplace strategies and design team, applying her unique approach to guiding clients to achieve the optimal built environment. She will work with practice area leaders nationally to identify expansion and diversification opportunities, build business, and create sector-leading client services.

Chairman and CEO Bradford Perkins notes, "Sabret will be a valuable addition to our national interiors team, and her ability to synthesize ideas and create a space that tells a story will be invaluable in many of our core practice areas to support the messages and visions of our clients."

In addition to creating an award-winning portfolio of work, Flocos has also dedicated her time and stewardship to numerous organizations, including Jubilee Housing, SHARE Food Network, and the March of Dimes where she is serving as a Board Chair. She is active in many industry-related organizations including CoreNet, IIDA, IFMA, Commercial Real Estate for Women, and NAIOP.
