New York, NY (Oct. 1, 2019) Global architecture and design firm Perkins Eastman is proud to welcome Lynn Schrier-Bebler as its new Chief Financial Officer, effective today. [Oct. 1, 2019]

Schrier-Bebler is a seasoned financial executive with more than 30 years of experience, 15 of which were spent in the CFO role within the engineering and construction service industries. She brings an extensive background in finance and accounting operations, business transformation, financial risk management, and corporate governance to the role. Over the course of her career, Schrier-Bebler has built a deep experience base in multiple industries and has successfully led other corporate support functions such as IT, contracts, facilities, procurement, and human resources.

“Lynn brings significant domestic and international experience and a record of success as a financial executive to Perkins Eastman, especially in the fields of architecture, engineering, and construction. We are very pleased to welcome her to the firm,” says Andrew Adelhardt, Co-CEO and General Counsel of Perkins Eastman.

“I am thrilled and honored to be joining the Perkins Eastman team,” says Schrier-Behler. “Perkins Eastman is an internationally renowned architecture firm known for innovative and sustainable design that enhances the human experience. I look forward to partnering with the Executive team to continue the firm’s growth trajectory.”

Schrier-Behler earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry from the Pennsylvania State University and an MBA with a Finance concentration from the University of Miami.
