PERKINS EASTMAN NAMES DANIEL CINELLI AS MANAGING PRINCIPAL OF ARLINGTON, VA OFFICE

Proven Leadership and Creativity will Foster Growth in the Metro-Washington, DC Area

Arlington, VA (January 5, 2010) The Board of Directors of Perkins Eastman is pleased to announce that Daniel J. Cinelli FAIA will lead the firm's Arlington office as Managing Principal. Cinelli is a member of the firm's Board of Directors and Executive Committee. Cinelli relocated to Perkins Eastman's Arlington office in 2008 to nurture the firm's established international senior living practice in the mid-Atlantic region. Cinelli initially joined Perkins Eastman in June 2002 to open and serve as Managing Principal of the firm's Chicago office which grew from four to 40 people under his leadership.

Cinelli says of the appointment, "I am excited to continue the legacy established by the Arlington office in the primary and secondary education, higher education, senior living, commercial, and government markets. I look forward to building on the momentum we have created and further expanding these practices in the coming years."

Current clients of the Arlington office include Fairfax County Public Schools, Arlington Public Schools, Northern Virginia Community College, Episcopal Ministries to the Aging (EMA), Virginia United Methodist Homes, The JBG Companies, Emigrant Bank, and the City of Fredericksburg, VA.

Cinelli has more than 30 years of experience in the design of complex public- and private-sector facilities. His particular strength lies in leveraging his broad experience to facilitate his clients' strategic thinking. Cinelli is a regular speaker on future building trends, and has given more than 65 lectures to a variety of organizations over the past 20 years. He also taught a course on Planning and Design for a New Generation of Seniors at Harvard's Graduate School of Design in 2006 and has led an environmental design course for the University of North Texas (UNT) Coalition for Leadership in Aging Services (CLAS) program for the last 17 years.

"Dan's proven strengths in mentoring and educating make him a terrific leader," says Perkins Eastman's Chairman and CEO Bradford Perkins FAIA. "We expect the Arlington office to continue to flourish under his guidance."
