Austin, TX, (May 10, 2021) Carlos N. Moreno has joined Perkins Eastman's new Austin studio as Associate Principal. Moreno brings more than 30 years of experience in healthcare design, research, programming, and planning to advance the practice of medicine, both for public health and Research & Development.

"I am ecstatic to bring Carlos on board," said Hilary Kinder Bertsch, FAIA, Managing Principal of Perkins Eastman's Austin studio. "He is a talented designer, collaborative practitioner, and empathic leader, and will be key to our building a strong studio culture in Austin."

An avid researcher, Moreno continually explores trends and services in the industry to bring the most benefit to patients, practitioners, and caregivers. His attention to technical issues and knowledge of regulations in acute-care offers clients a high level of expertise and adds value in the delivery of services. Moreno's work includes the planning and design of healthcare facilities/higher education/laboratories, including all aspects of hospital services and modalities; as well as wellness and rehabilitation centers, free standing emergency departments (FSED), micro-hospitals, specialty clinics, senior living, concierge medical campuses, and code analysis in Texas and nationally.

A San Antonio native, Carlos is highly active in the profession and in the community, with board associations with San Antonio Botanical Garden, Family Service Association of San Antonio, San Antonio Chapter

PERKINS — EASTMAN

President of I-LinCP Institute for Leadership in Capital Projects, and as past Chair of the AIA-San Antonio Healthcare Knowledge Community.

“Being of service is core to who I am personally and professionally,” says Moreno. “I am invested in my community, and welcome the opportunity to give back and pay it forward.”

Perkins Eastman blends its global expertise with a grassroots, boots-on-the-ground approach to projects and clients. The firm’s Austin studio officially opened in February of 2021. Along with its established office in Dallas, the Austin studio is leveraging firmwide expertise in healthcare, higher education, senior living, mixed-use, and urban planning to grow the firm’s footprint throughout the Texas market. Maravilla at the Domain, planning for new buildings at Whisper Valley in Austin, and VIA Centro Plaza in San Antonio are just a few of the projects among the growing roster of work in the region.

Perkins Eastman is excited to welcome Carlos N. Moreno to the Austin studio.
